Digital Photography Workshop 9 – The Art of Flower Photography

Led by David DesRochers, Associate Naturalist

Whether photographing flowers in your garden or in a mountain meadow, there are techniques every level of photographer can use to create a photo worth hanging on your wall. In Workshop 9, nature photographer David DesRochers' "The Art of Flower Photography" will help you understand digital SLR camera settings and how to use them to manage light and sharpness. David will also cover the basics of composition and will share a few creative ideas that you can use to change an ordinary subject into a work of art. Bring your camera for a hands-on practice session following the presentation.
